West Haven announces ‘Artists Sunday’
Local artists participating in national movement Nov. 29

WEST HAVEN, Nov. 17, 2020 — The city is an official partner in a national effort to promote local artists as a source for holiday gift-giving. During the busiest shopping weekend of the year, Nov. 29 has been designated as “Artists Sunday.”

“West Haven has signed on to Artists Sunday because of the wealth of creative people living and working here who have been hard-hit economically these past several months,” Mayor Nancy R. Rossi said. “Even faced with extreme challenges, they continue to enrich our community in so many ways. This is our chance to come out and show we appreciate them.”

Artists who make things and provide services that are available for purchase in West Haven include:
