

Rossi to Restrict Parking for Residents Only

West Haven – Mayor Nancy R. Rossi announces the City of West Haven will be installing “beach permit parking only” signs along our shorefront, from South Street to Beach Street this week. Vehicles parked on these designated side streets, without a valid beach sticker, will be subject to a ticket and having their vehicles towed. The parking restriction will be in effect annually from May 1st – September 30th.

“Last summer our neighborhoods along the shore front were flooded with visitors from out of town that were parking for free, enjoying our beach and shorefront while taking up parking spots that were needed for our residents and their families, Rossi said. This year, unless visitors have a valid beach sticker, vehicles in violation will be tagged and towed—we intend on aggressively enforcing this parking ordinance. We will always invite and welcome visitors to West Haven, and we want them to enjoy our beaches and shore front, but they will have to park in designated visitor lots and pay for parking. We are not going to allow the chaos and litter problem we experienced last summer. I am looking forward to a more normal and enjoyable summer season in West Haven and want to ensure that our residents can park in front of their homes, Rossi concluded.
